1903 – 1986

Until the killing of black men, black mothers' sons, becomes as important to the rest of the country as the killing of a white mother's sons, we who believe in freedom cannot rest until this happens.
— Ella Josephine Baker

eji A History of Racial Injustice

On March 18, 1831, the Supreme Court issued an opinion in Cherokee Nation v. Georgia, sidestepping the issue of whether Georgia could extend its law over the Cherokee tribes, and instead ruling that the Cherokee Nation was not a "foreign nation"—so the Supreme Court had no jurisdiction to hear its claims.

re·new·al

the worn out, run-down, or broken.

Lent consists of the forty days before Easter in which Christians prepare to celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ by practicing the spiritual disciplines of fasting, prayer, and penitence. Sundays are always excluded as fast days during Lent because they are mini-Easters that symbolize the weekly celebration of Jesus' resurrection.

In Praise of brilliant, beautiful and brave Black Women

LEADER: In memory of Isabella Baumfree who was transformed into Sojourner Truth because the Lord called her to travel up and down the land being a sign and to declare truth to her people. She responded to the man who charged that he cared no more for her than a fleabite, "Maybe not, but the Lord willing, I'll keep you scratching."

PEOPLE: Let the brilliant, beautiful, and brave Black women keep coming as we scratch out justice in the land.

LEADER: By the witness of Harriet Tubman, who in spite of a $40,000 price on her life, challenged her people to "be free or die", and who courageously led them to freedom. She never lost a passenger as she showed her people a better way.

PEOPLE: Let the brilliant, beautiful, and brave Black women keep coming as conductors to keep a people on track to freedom.

LEADER: By the inspiration of Ida B. Wells and the First National Confederacy of Colored Women; Mary Margaret Washington and the National Federation of Afro-American Women; Mary Church Terrell and the National League of Colored Women; Rosa Parks whose tired feet inspired a nation to stand up; and Fannie Lou Hamer who left her cotton sack behind her and founded the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party from whence she took her seat at the 1964 Democratic Convention. These countless women worked hard to inspire, encourage, and register voters so that we could move forward.

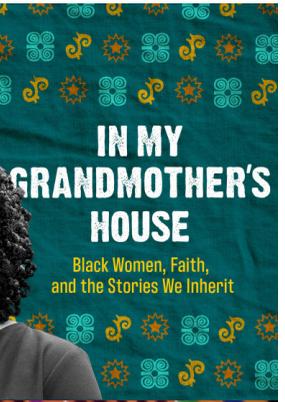

PEOPLE: Let the brilliant, beautiful, and brave Black women keep coming as we hammer out political opportunities for women who will change the course of history.

LEADER: We recognize women like Julia Kidd Stout who became the first African American woman elected to the bench in Philadelphia, Constance Baker Motley who was the first Black woman federal judge, and numerous other women of the Judiciary, including Leah Ward Sears, the first African American woman elected to a State Supreme Court and the first African American woman to serve as a Chief Justice of any State Supreme Court.

TOGETHER: Let brilliant, beautiful, and brave Black women keep coming as we render decisions that are equitable, compassionate, and morally sound. Let strong Black women keep coming until we have transformed America and made of this world a brotherhood and sisterhood where there is room for all and we "turn to each other and not on each other".

BOOK RECOMMENDATION

In My Grandmother's House, Yolanda Pierce, dean of Howard Divinity and recently named Dean of Vanderbilt Divinity, builds an everyday womanist theology rooted in liberating scriptures, experiences in the Black church, and truths from Black women's lives. Pierce centers Black Women's experiences while teasing out the tensions of race, spirituality, trauma, freedom, resistance, and memory.

Welcome to Sweet Magnolia

In the name of God who reveals herself to be more than we ever expected. Amen. The insistence that God is male and only male has not rung true to more than half the people on the planet from the time the Israelite Judean elite began to codify their sacred texts shaping the religions that have descended from them.

- Dr. Wil Gafney

#WHM2023 | March is Women's History Month. We are "Celebrating Women Who Tell Our Stories" throughout the month. This theme is adopted from the National Women's History Alliance, which spearheaded the movement for March to be declared National Women's History Month.

History helps us learn who we are, but our power and dreams are immediately diminished when we don't know our history.

POWER | Terrica Redfield Ganzy leads the Southern Center for Human Rights (SCHR), where she is dramatically transforming the criminal legal system through direct representation, impact litigation, policy advocacy, and public education.

Recognizing the achievements of women in all facets of life - domestic workers, science, community, government, literature, art, sports, and medicine - has a significant impact on the development of self-respect and new opportunities for girls and young women.
